SUMMARY OF BILL

This bill, among other things, would preclude an insurer of a suspended corporation from being prosecuted in a misdemeanor action if it defends an insured suspended corporation client in a civil action relating to the insurer's responsibilities to defend and indemnify the insured.

SUMMARY OF AMENDMENT

The April 23, 1998, amendments do not affect FTB's programs or operations.

Considerations

The following considerations were raised in the analysis of the bill as introduced February 17, 1998. Upon request from the author, staff is available for technical assistance:

- Although this bill exempts the insurer from a misdemeanor prosecution, it does not provide the insurer with the express opportunity to defend the suspended corporation without actually reviving the corporation from suspended status.
